

Tallinn, Estonia, May 20nd 2008

Dear Sir/Madam

Welcome to 19th International Association of Auto-Theft Investigators (IAATI) European Branch Annual Seminar which will be held from the 24th to the 26th of September 2008 at the Pirita Top Spa Hotel in Tallinn, Estonia.

The aim of each annual seminar will be to draw the attention of all participants not only to the latest developments in the field of international vehicle crime but also discussion and training about the most effective ways of combating this type of organized crime.

Around 200 participants worldwide are expected to take part in 19th IAATI European Branch Annual Seminar in Tallinn, Estonia and this will certainly guarantee the attention of the international media.

We hope that the various themes will be interesting and informative, and will lead to other memorable and successful occasions in the future.

In this view, please feel free to visit our website: <http://kesk.kripo.ee/IAATI> where you will find all information about the seminar, also all information to fill the registration form and book the room in seminar hotel. Agenda and preliminary training program, travel information etc. will be available on permanently updated website.

If you have interest to share your experiences (take part as lecturer or trainer) with other colleagues in the frame of the agenda, please contact with organisers committee. Contacts available on the website.

Yours sincerely,
